

Karma Clearing — Releasing Karmic Pacts with the Lords of Karma

Karma is the energetic consequence of the choices we make, often unknowingly bound by reactive decisions taken at the moment of passing from one life to another. It is not a punishment or external judgment, but rather a self-imposed agreement based on the conditions, emotions, and energies we held during significant moments—especially at the time of death. These decisions often stem from guilt, shame, or unresolved emotions that compel us to return to the physical realm to rectify perceived wrongdoings. However, these karmic agreements, which are meant to balance energies, can sometimes limit or block our soul's progress. In the Akashic Records, you can access and release these karmic contracts, stepping into a space of freedom and self-empowerment.

In previous chapters, we explored the concept of karma as a form of energetic exchange, and we discussed how karma arises from the choices we made in past lives. It is essential to remember that the karmic energy you carry is neither good nor bad—it is simply the result of actions and intentions that need to be balanced. The process of releasing karma involves returning to those agreements, understanding them, and consciously choosing to dissolve them.

This is where the Lords of Karma come in. These benevolent beings, who reside in the higher dimensions, guard and protect the karmic agreements that we have made across lifetimes. They are not here to enforce punishment but to help guide us in our journey of self-realization and spiritual evolution. The Lords of Karma are beings of pure love and light who assist us in navigating our karmic ties and clearing the path for our soul's growth. When we approach them with the intention to release a karmic pact, they lovingly guide us through the process.

One of the powerful exercises you can do in your Akashic Records work is to meet with the Lords of Karma and cancel or modify karmic pacts that are no longer serving you. Through visualization and connection with the Akashic Records, you can dissolve these agreements and consciously rewrite your soul's contract in a way that empowers you moving forward.

Visualization Exercise: Meeting the Lords of Karma

Imagine the Akashic Records as an infinite, multi-dimensional library filled with books and archives of every soul's journey. Picture this library as a place of peace and knowledge, where information flows freely, and there is no limit to what you can access. Take a few deep breaths and allow yourself to enter this sacred space.

1. Visualize the Library: See yourself walking into this grand library, with towering bookshelves extending into infinity. Each book contains the details of your soul's journey, your past lives, and the karmic contracts you have signed throughout your existence. The air in the library is filled with a soft, glowing light, and you feel a sense of peace and clarity.

2. Locate the Room of the Lords of Karma: Ahead of you is a large, beautiful room where the Lords of Karma reside. These loving beings are seated around a circular table, their presence radiating unconditional love and compassion. They are here to assist you, to help you release any karmic ties that are holding you back.

3. State Your Intention: As you take a seat at the table, speak your intention clearly to the Lords of Karma. For example, "I intend to release the karmic pact I made with [name of person or situation], which no longer serves my highest good." Be specific about the relationship, event, or decision that you feel is still holding you back energetically.

4. The Contract is Presented: The Lords of Karma bring forward a large folder containing your karmic contract. As they open the folder, they show you the page where you signed the agreement. Pay close attention to the details—what does the page look like? What is the page's color? What number is on the page? What color ink did you use? These details can offer insight into the nature of the contract.

5. Releasing the Karmic Pact: Once you have identified the contract, the Lords of Karma invite you to cancel it. They hand you the page, and you feel a deep sense of relief and freedom as you tear it up. Nearby, there is a beautiful violet flame—the flame of transmutation and forgiveness. With reverence, you place the torn pieces of the contract into the violet flame, watching as it dissolves all energetic effects this contract has had across lifetimes, dimensions, and timelines. Visualize the violet flame completely dissolving the contract, freeing you from any residual energies.

6. Write a New Empowering Agreement: Now, the Lords of Karma give you a new sheet of paper—a clean slate. This is your opportunity to write a new, empowering agreement for yourself. State your full name and write the following:

"I, [your full name], here and now, from the pure light of origin and with my divine authority, cancel and release all agreements that no longer serve my highest good. I free myself from the effects of these agreements across all dimensions, times, and spaces. I step into my perfect freedom, sovereignty, and alignment with my highest self."

7. Sign the New Contract: Sign your name at the bottom of the page. Again, pay attention to the details—what color is the page? What color is the ink? What is the page number? The Lords of Karma take this new contract and place it back in your Akashic Records, filing it away in the library.

8. Feel the Freedom: Take a moment to breathe deeply and feel the lightness and freedom that comes with releasing the old karmic agreements. Know that you are no longer bound by those energies and that you have stepped into a new phase of your soul's journey—one of empowerment, clarity, and alignment with your divine purpose.

9. Gratitude and Closing: Express your gratitude to the Lords of Karma for their assistance and their loving presence. Take a moment to ground yourself, feeling your connection to the Earth and to your body. As you leave the library, know that you can return anytime you need guidance, healing, or clarity.

Advice on Writing Your Empowering Agreement

After releasing your karmic contracts, it is important to create a new agreement that aligns with your soul's purpose and highest good. When you write your new agreement, be clear and intentional. Here are some guidelines to consider:

- Focus on Empowerment: Your new agreement should affirm your freedom, sovereignty, and alignment with your highest self. Write in a way that reflects your personal power and your commitment to living a life of purpose and fulfillment.

- Release Fear and Limitation: Make sure to release any lingering fears, limitations, or attachments to old patterns. State that you are free from all the effects of past agreements across all dimensions of time and space.

- Embrace Your Divine Authority: Recognize that you are the creator of your own reality, and you have the divine authority to shape your future. Declare your intention to live in alignment with your highest truth and soul's plan.

 “Know that only the contracts which are complete and ready for release will dissolve, while those still holding soul lessons will remain until their wisdom is integrated.”

An example of a new empowering agreement could be:

"I, [your full name], now step into my full power and divine authority. I release all karmic agreements that no longer serve me and choose to live in alignment with my soul's purpose. I am free, sovereign, and aligned with my highest good. I invite only love, light, and healing into my life, and I trust the guidance of my highest self to lead me forward."

By doing this work, you clear old karmic patterns and step into a new phase of your spiritual journey, free from the burdens of the past. The Lords of Karma, the Akashic Records, and the power of your own intention are sacred allies in this liberation.

 As the pages of old karma dissolve, your soul becomes lighter, clearer, and more free to embody its divine design. Yet, just as contracts can bind us, energetic implants and imprints may still linger in the cellular memory. In the next chapter, we will explore how to identify and release these implants, allowing the body and soul to return fully to their original blueprint of wholeness.
